PERNON TROPICAL Fever and Ague

A certain Cure for Fever and Ague, Remittent and Intermittent Fever, and all Billieus Complaints.

It is a well known fact that the different fevers and billious complains are caused by the poisonoum and and exhalations from the surface of the earth which are taken into the system by respiration. The neutralise this subtle poison and counteract its effect upon the system, is therefore what we have to aim at and with this view the "French Tropical Fever and Agu-Mixture" has been prepared.

and with this view the "French Tropical Fever and AguMixture" has been prepared.
The high reputation which this medicine has gained within so short a time in the South and West where it has been introduced, is a sufficient proof for its superiority above all other compounds of the samo kind.
As an antidote to malaria, this medicine stands unrivalled, and as it is purely vegetable, it can be safely given to children and delicate patients, not only in case of fever, but in all cases where a good tonic is required.
The French Tropical Fever and Ague Mixture is prepared by B. LaPLACE, Chemist and Druggist, New Or leans, and sold by all respectable druggists throughout this city.

THE LAST FILLIBUSTERS LEFT BLOOMING .- The New York correspondent of the Charleston Merary says that of the fillibusters, the only notable nes left among us are Wheat and Henningsen .n the general topsy-turvying of all their Nicaragua and Cuban plans, these gallant souls do not now what to do with themselves. They may be seen any evening at the St. Nicholas, where they are pointed out to strangers as curious specime of a race of beings now, alas, nearly extinct.

Later .- It will be seen by the telegraphic disatches that Fillibuster Walker has sailed from Berwicks' Bay below New Orleans for Nicaragua. apt. Harry Maury, who fought the duel with De Reveire, the French adventurer, at Mobile, ommands the vessel. The number of men the persevering fillibuster has seduced into his daring and lawless enterprise is not stated. We reckon there is a concerted movement of this gentry, and to-morrow we will probably hear that a large number has sailed from New York, October 5th is the day fixed for their embarkation from that port, as we stated last week.

Robbery .- Adam Mertz, who keeps a coffee ouse on State street, says the New Albany Ledger, was robbed of $92 yesterday just before oon. The money was under lock and key in a supboard in a cigar box, and was composed of ree tens on the State Bank of Indiana, five five lollar gold pieces, one two and a half and a one dollar gold piece, three fives in paper, on banks that he does not recollect, and the balance in silver, mostly halves and quarters. Mr. Mertz charges the theft to a young man who had been poarding with him a few days. The cigar box, which contained the money, was found under the bed of the young man, and since the taking of it he has not been heard from, but is supposed, from what he told another boarder, that he went to Chicago on the noon train vesterday, L. & N. R. R.-Election of Officers .- The annual election for President, Vice Presidents and Directors of the Louisville and Nashville Railroad Company took place yesterday. The old officers were re elected, as follows: President-Hon, John L. Helm. Vice Presidents - Hon. James Guthrie; for Tennessee, Mr. Guild.

Directors-Hon. James Guthrie, H. D. Newomb, Ben. J. Adams, Thos. Quigley, Wm. Garvin, J. B. Wilder, Louisville; Eagene Underwood, Nashville; Mr. Guild, Mr. Cooper, for Tennessee. REMARKABLE SUICIDE. - A boy named John Durk

hanged himself in St. Louis, on Friday, it is sapposed, because he was not allowed to serve at mass. It appears that after the boys had dressed n the room adjoining the chapel, for the purpose f serving at mass, it was found that he would not be required. The others repaired to the hapel and left him there. When they returned, to their horror they found him hanging dead .-He had, in the interim, hanged himself by means of a rope fastened to a step ladder.

We find that we made a mistake yesterday n the name of Mr. Robbins, the accomplished and skillful bank officer, who has recently been ransferred from the tellership of the Jefferson avings Institute to that of the branch of the Northern Bank of Kentucky, in this city. We should have written it Mr. Frank G. Robbins .-May his future course be onward and upward, as t has hitherto been.

ERS .- The diggers in the coal mines, about Pittsburg, finding that their demands for redress at the hands of their late employers are not successful, have commenced a series of riotous deponstrations, such as stoning those workmen who do not participate in the "strike," assaulting officers, &c. Men, women and children participate in the outrages.

John Burton Shaw, the young rascal who narried a wife in Albany, N. Y., in March, 1858, and a year and three days after was united to a Vermont lady, was tried and convicted a week ago in Montpelier, Vt, in company with a man named Litch, who was an accessory before the fact. Both the parties richly deserve, and will doubtless get, the severest sentence of the law.

Mr. C. C. Spencer's auction sales for to-day re as follows: This morning at 10 o'clock, at auction rooms, a lot of clothing, millinery goods and fancy articles. This afternoon, at 3 o'clock, a fine farm near the city, on the Salt river pike; and this evening, at 7 o'clock, at auction rooms, a large lot of gold and silver watches and jewelry. ee advertisements.

The closing sale of pawnbroker stock, of old and Silver Watches, Gold Jewelry and Diaond Rings and Pins, will take place this mornng, Wednesday, at 10 o'clock, at the auction ooms of S. G. It possesses decided merit, and cannot fail to achieve a decided popularity. The plot of the story is simply the portraiture of character strongly drawn, and the entire volume is charac terized alike by its vigor of thought and facility of expression. By Louise Chandler Moulton. New York: Har-

Miss Moulton's works have excited no incom siderable attention, and she is entitled to the credit of having invented a new style of naming books which will be convenient to voluminous authors. The "Third Book" is miscellaneous in its char acter, and contains seventeen stories, the longest of them being "The Pride of Moses Grant." They are magazine stories, most of which will be cognized by the readers of light literature as old acquaintances. But they are much above the evel of the common class of such productions, and will bear a second perusal.

The St. Louis Democrat has the following in reference to his rotting with the peerless Flora and others: Mr. Burks' Green Mountain Black Hawk, a horse which has made, perhaps, as many friends as any horse which has appeared at our Fair, now ap-peared with his splendid action and rapid gait.— He was started at a pace which, on a track, would have told somewhere in the "thirties," but was carried off his feet, and made three breaks; he t is due to this horse to say, that on first entering the ring one of the shafts of his sulky was broken by some accident, and that he did his dis-sance in a wagon. This, of course, made a difference in time, and marks him, if this trial may be regarded as anything, one of the fastest green stallions of his day.

THAT FILLIBUSTER EXPEDITION.-We stated the other day that we had private advices that another fillibuster expedition was organizing. The following dispatch to the Cincinnati Gazette from Washington confirms it :

wes little doubt that Walker has recommenced his fillibustering operations. A letter from Hous-ton, Texas, states positively, that he would shortly leave New Orleans for Nicaragua, in such a way as to preclude opposition from the Government. The official order of the K. G. [EXOLUSIVE DISPATCH TO THE LOUISVILLE Jefferson's Wedding and his Wedding Night-COURIER]

"Belinda" (Jefferson's first love) had been married many years, and her old admirer was approaching thirty, when he met with a young lady of twenty-two, who produced a strong impression upon him. She was a little above the medium hight, slender, but elegantly formed. A fair complexion, with a delicate that of the rose; large hare killed, and the striker badly wounded. No her particulars.

Indiana State Fair.

The entire receipts of this Fair were about 10,000. Tho New Albany Tribune thinks the thibit entirely satisfactory, in which opinion the edger does not concur. We confess that we ancipated larger receipts by thousands of dollars. he Ledger calls for a complete exhibit by the Jefferson came to visit very frequently at the lady's residence in the county of Charles City. It was called "The Forest," and the name of the lady was Mrs. Martha Skelton. She was a daughter of John Wayles, an eminent lawyer, and had married in her seventeenth year Mr. Bathurst Skelton, who, dying in 1768, left his young wife a widow at nineteen. As the three years of roughing he t nineteen. As the three years of mourning be gan to expire, the beautiful young lady found herself besieged at "The Forest" by numerous visitors. Of these, three were favorites with the fair Mrs. Skelton, of whom Mr. Thos. Jefferson was one. The tradition runs that the pretentions of the rivals were decided either by musical accomplishments of the convestion or by the force this ishments of the comsellor, or by the fears of his ponents. The tale is differently related. One rsion is that the unfortunate gentlemen encoun-red each other on Mrs. Skelton's door step, but, earing Mr. Jefferson's violin and voice accompalying the lady in a pathetic song, gave up the con-est thenceforth, and retired without entering, envinced that the affair was beyond their con The other story is, that all three met at the door, In a other story is, that all three met at the door, and agreed that they would take their turns. Mr. Jefferson entered first, and the tones of the lady in singing with her companion deprived the listeners of all hope. However this may be, it is certain that the beautiful widow consented to become Mrs. Jellerson; and on the 1st day of January, 1772, there was a great festival at "The Forest." Friends and kindred assembled from far and near; there was frolicking and dancing after the abundant old tashion; and we find from the bridegroom's note book that the servants and fiddlers received fees from his especial packet. It snowed without her from his especial pocket. It snowed without, but within all was mirth and enjoyment, in the light and warmth of the great log fires, roaring in honor of the occasion. Soon after the performance of he ceremony, the bridegroom and his bride set out in their carriage for "Monticello," where Mr. lefferson had commenced building in 1769, just fore the destruction by fire of his patrim e mountains the snow increased in depth, and inally they were compelled to leave the carriage and proceed upon their way on horse-back. Stop-bing to rest at "Blenheim," the seat of Col Carter. where they found, however, no one but an over-seer, they left it at sunset, resolutely bent upon reaching Monticello before night. It was eight miles distant, and the road, which was rather a mountain bridle path than an honest highway, was encumbered with snow three feet deep. We may fancy the sensations of the next, readded may fancy the sensations of the newly wedded bride at the chill appearance of the desolate land-scape, as she passed along through the snow; but he was a woman of courage and good sense, and did not care for inconvenience. It was late when they arrived, and a cheerless reception awaited m-or, rather, there was no reception at all .-The fires were all out, the servants had gone t ed, and the place was as dark and silent as the rave. Conducting his wife to the little pavillion, which was the only part of the house habitable at the time, Mr. Jefferson proceeded to do honors.— On a shelf behind some books part of a bottle of vine was discovered, and this formed the supp of the bridegroom and the bride. Far from being annoyed or discomforted by their reception, how. ever, it only served for a topic of jest and laugh ver, it only served for a topic of jest and laugh r. The young lady was as merry and light earted as a bird, and sent her clear voice ringing prough the dreary little pavillion as gaily as she had ever done in the cheerful drawing room of 'The Forest.' Thus the long hours of the winter night fled away like minutes, winged with laughr, merriment and song. The vigil was a mirth-il incident rather than a trial of their equanimity, hey were young; and they had just been married.

Vicissitudes of Families in Great Britain. [From the Bostos Transcript.]
This subject is discussed by Sir Bernard Burke in a recently published work. He states that imo be found pursuing the humble occupations of ntchers and toll-gatherers; and Plantagents have f England left undimmed the families of the ar oeracy. In Herefordshire, a county peculiar rich in ancient families, there are, it is said at two or three country gentlemen who can show a male descent from the proprietors recorded in the "Visitation." In the North, too, commerce has uprooted the most of the old proprietors of he soil. "It has often been remarked." says

The last of the Conyers—a race which did not yield in eminence to any other in England—died in a workhouse. The Yorkshire Rokebys were finally represented by a carpenter, who died during the last century. The heir of the ancient family of Castleton died in 1819, at Lynn, as a breeches maker. The following account of the family of Eugenie, the Empress of the French, is furnished by Mr. Burke, and it certainly well illustrates his theme, namely, "The Vicissitudes of Families."
"It the Kirkpatricks, from whom the Empress Eugenie is descended, are of the family of Clese-burn, it remains yet to be ascertained when and how they diverged from the ancient tree. Thomas Kirkpatrick had a small property, called Knock, in Dumfrieshire. "An application was made hereupon by the friends of the family to the late ingenious Mr. Charles Kirkpatrick Sharp, a gentleman who, from his wit and fondness of virtue, was called by Sir Walter Scott the Horace Walpole of Edinburgh. Mr. Sharp undertook, with considerable zest, the task of supplying his fait countrywoman with a long and flourishing genealogical tree, in which the dagger, dripping the heart's blood of the 'red Comyn,' made a conspicuous figure. The pedigree was beautifully drawn up and sent to Spain. When it was submitted to King Ferdinand VII, he indulged in a joke on the occasion. Looking at the document where the origin of the Kirkpatricks seemed lost in the midst of ancient Caledonia, his Msjesty said: 'the young Montijo marry the daughter of Fingal.' Caledonia, his Majesty said: '9h, by all means let the young Montijo marry the daughter of Fingal.'
The husband of Miss Kirkpatrick eventually succeeded to the titles and estates of this family, and left two daughters, of whom the elder espoused the Duke of Berwick and Alva, representative of the Marechal Duc de Berwick, natural son of King James II. and the vanager. long celebrated King James II, and the younger, long celebrated for her beauty and grace as Countess de Theba, is now Eugenie, Empress of the French. AND STILL THEY COME. - We still continue our extracts from leading Democratic journals, the purport of which is, that public sentiment is now in strict accordance with the views heretofore expressed and boildy maintained by the National Democrats of Illinois, and for which we have been so vehemently denounced by the venal presses in the interest of the bolters. The article from the Louisville Courier, which will be found in another place, commends itself to the attention of candid nen, not only by its evident truth/uluess, but as a voice coming to us from the good old conservative State of Kentucky, upon whose fidelity to sound national principles so much will depend in the grand contest of 1860. We are tempted, in this connection to say, that, while under the pressure of political demoralization at the North, we look to the South for a successful defense of truly national sentiments, it is no more than just that those who have been faithful in sastaining those principles which are not confined to any one section of the United States, but are common to all, should receive the appropriate to the contraction. the United States, but are common to all, should receive the approbation to which they are entitled. Let the result be as it may, the National Democracy in the Northwest have nothing to regret but their inability to do more than they have been able to do for a good cause, and nothing to retract in all they have said. As truth is mighty and will prevail we confidently look for a time when but one rail, we confidently look for a time when but one opinion will prevail as to the common rights of the States of this confederacy, and when each State the States of this confederacy, and when each State moving in its own sphere, there will be no other irrepressible conflict than that which of necessity exists between "the Union, which must be preserved," and all other forms of government which must of necessity be abandoned. It affords us pleasure to say that the Louisville Courier ranks high among the most ably conducted journals of the country, and with the ability to nals of the country; and, with the ability to per-cieve, and the boldness to expose the errors of po-litical aspirants, it has often spoken encouraging

The spot s wild and solitary—and not a tree spreads its hade where rests the beantiful mother of Israel.— Christian, Jew and Moslem all agree that this is ust the spot where Rachel was buried, and all unite in honoring it. The Turks are anxious that their askes may rest near her's, and hence their bodies have been strewn under tomb; all around the simple grave of Rachel. LOUISVILLE: WEDNESDAY OCTOBER 5, 1859.

The Democratic Party. The Democratic party differs essentially from any political organization which now exists, or is a party founded upon constitutional principles, and not on measures of mere ephemeral popu-Carity. It has ever planted itself on the right, not on the expedient, and, therefore, has suffered re- James the ascendency by appealing to the interests of ward, verses and defeats. It has never sought to gain particular localities, or by appealing to mens' particular localities, or by appealing to mens' pockets, but on the contrary has offered the only opposition that has been offered to a The appellee, in his answer, alleged that the wasteful expenditure of the public money. This is shown by its continued opposition to river and harbor bills and to high protective tariffs. By advocating these measures the Democratic party might have gained a transient popularity, but it would have been at the sacrifice of its openly avowed principles. This steady devotion to principle, at all hazards, through "evil and through good report," has been through "evil and through good report," has been a distinguishing characteristic of the Democratic party, and it has enabled it to sustain defeat after defeat, and by still clinging to its principles, and by appealing to and relying on the sober-second thought" of the people, has enabled it, in the end, to retain political ascendency. Having for sixty years weathered the political storms by adhering to principle, it is now proposed in certain quarters to ignore our distinctive principles, to lower the standard of Democratic orthodoxy, and to aim to secure party success rather than the triumph of Democratic principles. We are told that we cannot at this time secure a victory on a constitutional platform-a platform recognizing the equality of the South in the Union; that we must take a Northern man, with strong anti-slavery proclivities; that we must yield a little to the pressure of Northern sentiment, and "cut under" the Black Republicans, or, if we do not, an inevitable defeat awaits us. It is further urged that the Democratic party has but one man in its ranks who can secure enough Northern electoral votes to insure his election to the Presidency. This is certainly an extraordinary confession to be made by professng Democrats, and would indicate that the Democratic is a mere personal party, and not a party of principles, and that it is more wedded to a particular man than to the principles it has advocated for more than half a century. In our brief political experience we have seen some notable instances of politicians who considered themselves the Democratic party, and who toolishly attempted to force themselves and their heresies upon it; but in every instance they have failed, and the party managed to get along, not only without their heretical dogmas, but without themselves. Van Buren attempted to control the party in 1844, and he was thrown overboard, and so it has been since, and will ever continue to be. The Democratic statesman who falls from his high estate, falls never to rise again. Our party never trusts itself to the leadership of any man who has once forfeited its confidence and warred against it. We have enough Democratic statesnen not "only pure, but above suspicion"-men free from affiliation with the hereditary enemies of the Democracy-and these men are deserving of and should receive the support of the true Democracy of the nation. This is the only way in which to maintain our party in its original purity and strength, and secure for it continued

Let us emulate the examples of the Democrats of by-gone days-and like them, some defeat or victory, let us stand steadfastly by our principles Our party has a noble mission to fulfill. Next year we will fight the great battle for the Constitution and the Union, and we will be aided by the good men and the true men of all sections of the Union. Let us adopt such a platform as will recognize no distinctions of sections, and let our party, national in principles, and national in its aims and in its organization, save the country from the triumph of a sectional party-a party "anti-slavery Constitution, an anti-slavery Bible, and an anti-slavery God."

RECIPROCITY IN VISITING-NORTH AND SOUTH .-The New York Day Book speaks of the large number of southern people who visit the North every season, and thinks it would have a happy effect if the northern pleasure-seekers would re turn these visits in the winter. "If the people of both sections," says the Day Book, " could become better acquainted, very much of the present jealousy and misunderstanding would be done away with. No southerner comes among us for the first time, without feeling his mind expanded and finding some of the rough edges of his dislike for Yankeeism rubbed off. No northerner, but a crazy fanatic, can go into the South and mix with the people sufficiently to understand them and their institutions, without discovering that the "anti-slaveryism" of the North is one of the most outrageous impositions ever preached to a deluded community."

WESTPORT, OLDHAM Co., KY., Oct. 3d , '59. Editors Louisville Courier: It is doubtles 3 pleas ing to his numerous personal and politics (friends to know that Col. John W. Clayton, of Oldham, will be a prominent candidate before the popular branch of the next Kentucky Legislatu e for the office of Sergeant-at-Arms, and that h's prospects at present appear fully equal to those of any other individual named.

The Colonel is a true specimen of Kentucky

emocracy, having fought valiantly in every po-ical contest from the first election of Gen. Jackon to the Presidency till the complete overthrow of Oppositionism at the polls in August last. And that he would discharge the duties of the office with credit to himself, the House and the State, all must agree who have the ple sure of knowing

We wish not to disparage the claims of others, yet beg leave to urge that the Democrats county have ever been loyed to the good cause, and have never been clamorous for public office.

Therefore, gentlemen, give Col. Clayton the poany political organization which now exists, or sition referred to, and it will prove gratifying to the people generally, and especially to the Democracy of

> [From the Frankfort Yeoman.] Court of Appeals of Kentucky.

Appeal from Franklin Circuit Court.

This was an action for false imprisonment appellant was properly retained in custody under a judgment of the Woodford Circuit Court, ren-dered at its September term, 1852, on a verdict for the space of five years upon each indictment."

The Court, per Simpson, Chief Justice, held

At the time the judgment of the Woodford Cir-uit Court was rendered there was no statutory rovision in force in this State authorizing the ourts, where the punishment was confinement in the penitentiary, to render a judgment ordering he term of imprisonment to commence at a fu ture period. Since that time the Criminal Code has been adopted, and it contains a provision that if the defendant be convicted of two or more of-fenses, the punishment of each of which is coninement, the judgment shall be so rendered that the punishment in one case shall commence after the termination of it in the others. [Sec. 282.]

Whatever may have been the intention of the court in rendering a judgment that the prisoner should be confined for the space of five years upon each indictment, the legal effect of the judgment is, that he shall be confined only five years; that such confinement shall be upon each indictment, and that both terms of five years shall commence and terminate at the same periods. A similar case was decided by the Supreme Court of Indiana, (the Warden of the Indiana State Prison vs. net Allen,) in which that Court held that i the absence of any statutory provision authorizing it to be done, the courts have no authority to or-der a term of imprisonment in the penitentiary to mmence at a future period.

As there was no statute in force in this State at time the judgment against the prisoner was endered, providing that in such case one term of aprisonment should commence at the expiration the other, the judgment must be construed as entencing the prisoner to five years' imprison ment only, and having served five years in the penitentiary, he has undergone the punishment to which he was sentenced, both terms having comnenced and ended simultaneously Judgment of the Circuit Court is reversed.

INCIDENTS OF THE EXPLOSION OF THE GREAT EAST-ERN .- A correspondent of the N. Y. Times, who was on the Great Eastern at the time of the disaster, writes:

The usual variety of incidents occurred, showing the respective traits of character which such dis-asters call out. The pilot, Mr. Atkinson, was, of course, on the bridge, abaft the scene of the exlosion, and under the shower of glass and sp self, he stood fast in his place, remarking, "That's asen, he stood hast in its place, remarking, "Inat's none of my business; I'm going to steer the ship as long as she is a ship." Another hard-headed old fellow was laying a floor on a part of the wheel-house. He was sawing off a plank at the time of the disaster, and, without taking his knee off the timber, he looked up till the shower of projectiles had faller, and then quietly resumed his sawing as if nothing hed hypered. On earthers were as if nothing had happened. On gentleman ner-vously took his friends apart one by one, and whispered that the ship's side was blown out, and danger had passed, assured all who came near him, in broken accents, that he never felt more composed in his life. One of the news-paper reporters betook himself to the extreme end of the ship, confidently expecting that the other ine boilers must necessarily go off in their turn like a train of mines. One person, approaching an officer, exclaimed, "Tell me the worst, I am pre-pared to meet my God." Very few were loud and profane, as I have sometimes seen people in the very jaws of death.

NOTICES.

A WORD TO THE WISE .- The people are aware that D. O'Hare, No. 427 Main street, is the oldest, largest, and most experienced manufacturer of trunks and similar articles in the city. They should avail themselves of the rare opportunities afforded by Mr. O'Hare. To the country and city merchants he offers peculiar advantages in his wholesale department, while in the retail line he cannot be equalled. Whoever wants to travel, whether with a small carpet bag or a mammoth trunk, need go no further than the great Western factory of Mr. O'Hare. His manufactory is a credit to Louisville, and should meet with extensive patronage. As a matter of home p .de, and to subserve economy, purchasers will consult their best interest in purchasing of Mr. D O'Hare Remember, that the United States Prize Medal was awarded to D. O'Hare for the best trunks

To the Deaf of the Nove head, deaf shout thicks.

To the Deaf .- I have been deaf about thirty years, and have been examined by some of the most eminent surgeons in the United States, who have told me that surgeous in the United States, who have told me that nothing could be done for me. About two weeks since, I put myself under the care of Dr. McLeod, and I have already found relief, and have confidence in a perfect core. E. T. COLLETT, M. D.

To the People of Louisville—I have been deaf from infancy, which is about 19 years. Dr. McLeod has restored me i. four days to perfect hearing. The sound came in my ears s. powerfully that I was obliged t stop them with cotton until I could get used to it. I may be seen in Fourth street Market House, stall number 22. Louisville, Ky., Sept. 20. 1859. CHAS KRAFFT.

TESTIMONY OF THE REV. Ms. HOLLIDAY, of the Presbyterian Church.—Thirty-three years ago, my hearing was much injured by measles, since then I have used a variety of remedies with but little benefit. Dr. McLeod has had my ca.e for some time under treatment, and such is the improvement, that if my advice were asked by a friend suffering s in deafness, I would say, without hesitation, avail yourself of Dr. McLeod's skill.

of the Liver, &c.

To those who regard the authority of names more than their own experience, it is enough to say that the Peruvian Syrup is now regularly prescribed by every Physician of note in Boston, and in the Massachusetts General H spital, an institution of the highest reputation in the country. THE seal of public approbation has been so unmistarkably fixed upon this medicine that the proprietor feels it to be his duty to call the attention of all those persons to it who are suffering from, or threatened with, affections of the lungs or throat. Its basis is the active principle of the Wild Cherry Bark, but it contains also, in proper proprisons, other of the most efficient pectorals of the MATERIA MYDICA. Its component parts and proportions are well known to physicians everywhere, as the proprietor makes no secret of them, and they have met the universal approbation of the faculty, who,
as a general thing, prefer using this preparation to any prescription which they can have prepared by a drugtion in the country.

The Sam Kirkman, Capt. Throop, is du this morning, on her way to Cairo and Memphis. She is a good boat, in charge of clever officers. The John M. Sharp, built by Captains Vallace and Powell for the Yazoo trade, is now arly completed, and will probably start to New rleans Saturday. She is at the city wharf. The Cherokee, the magnificent new boat miding for Capt. Cummings for the Mobile trade, will be ready to start South on or about the 10th inst. Passengers going to New Orleans and Mo-bile next week can bear her in mind. The Straw Cutter No. 2, Capt. Ford's new for the Henderson trade, will be ready to anach in a week or more.

The Indian No. 1, a new boat, was due Pittsburg last night. The Charm hence for White river, was at ansville Monday.

THE MARY COOK SUNK .- We learn from the Cin cinnati Commercial of yesterday, that the Mary Cook sunk at the foot of Raccoon Island, 27 niles below Pomeroy, Sunday night, at 9 o'ch the water being three feet over her decks. Mary Cook was bound from Madison for Pittsourg, two thirds loaded-principally with flour cently been purchased by Capt. Hugh Campbe and others at Marshal's sale, and had just been docked and thoroughly repaired at Magison. She was in her third season, we believe, and probably worth $7,000 or $8,000

BY TELEGRAPH.

From Washington, Washington, Oct 4.—A month ago information was received in this city of fillibustering movements against Nicaragua. Although the statements were not fully credited, they were deemed of sufficient importance to justify the issuing of instructions to the proper Federal officers to exrcise more than ordinary vigilance, the Presi dent himself superintending these precautionary measures. The recent advertisement in the New Orleans papers of a steamship to start from Mobile for Churaqui on the 1st of October, added to the other accumulating suspicious circumstances attending the alleged contemplated invasion of Nicaragua; but on inquiry of the Collector at Mobile, nothing has been heard to confirm the truth of the report, so far as that port is concern-ed. Within the present week reliable information has been received, as stated in the general newspaper dispatch yesterday, that large numbers of strangers were in New Orleans, including many prominent persons known to have been heretofore connected with fillibustering enterrises; and this, together with other ctances, excited a suspicion in the mind of Col-ector Hatch that they meditated an unlawful exedition. Late last night as many as one hunired, or one hundred and fifty of them, left that city, the presumption being that they had gone to the Balize to await a vessel. The clearance had been asked for for the steamer Philadelphia, professedly for Chiraqui, but which Collector Hatch refused for the reasons above stated.

The agent of the steamer was persistent, and again applied for her clearance, but met with no better success than at first. Of these facts our Government is informed, and probably they are the only ones from authentic sources in its pos-session. It is believed that this subject was to-day a matter of Cabinet consideration. Orders have been dispatched by telegraph to the commanding officer at Baton Rouge for the concentrating and holding the Federal military reserve, to be used it necessary as a posse comit atus for the enforcement of the laws.

It is believed here, and the facts which have est transpired, seem to warrant the conclusion hat the fillibusters, so far, have arranged their plans so as to avail themselves of the advantages fforded them by the re-opening of the Nicaragu Fransit Route, for the accomplishment of the lesigns. The administration is determined, by all the means in its power, including the employment f the land and naval forces, to compel respect to he neutrality laws. The instructions to minister demitry are particularly with reference to the rening of the transit route, and as both govern ents have assented to the Lamar-Seeladon treaty t is supposed that Nicaragua will offer no obstacle to the passage of the mails. The presence of the Postmaster General in New York in connection
